The second funny site

<http://writeonit.org>

WriteOnIt hasn't so much templates as FotoTrix but the effects are also good. The community of this site battle about the best montage and you can choose whether your creation will be public or no. The site is well designed and easy to use. You don't need to give your name and email address.

This is a friend of mine in his early years

I created the title and subtitle and inserted the picture, than I sent him an e-mail from the title picture and loaded it down.

One more effect:

Here you can montage your face in a hole.

Crop your picture without your hairs or look for a picture what is equal to your colour of hair, after input in the hole adjust the weight, height and the brightness, that the montage has same colour as the picture with the hole. You can also circulate in the direction a funny thing.

An other example

You can crop your picture with free programs as FastStone Image Viewer, Irfanview. Gimp, Picasa and others.

I mad a few month ago a video for a friend, with Fast Stone and with Irfanview.

I also looked over the cards, here I wrote only the greeting and loaded it down but you can also the card sent directly to your friend.

You can find ideas for the holidays on my sites
